REFINED ILLIANA CORRIDOR ALTERNATIVES TO BE PRESENTED AT PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE MEETINGS

Springfield, IL and Indianapolis, IN - The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) and the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) will host the second round of open house public meetings for the Tier Two Illiana Corridor Study. The Illiana B3 Alternatives extend from I-55 near Wilmington, Illinois east to I-65 near Cedar Lake, Indiana. The refined Illiana Alternatives are generally located within the 2000' preferred corridor identified during the first tier of the planning process.

The meetings will be an open house format, and interested persons may attend anytime between 5:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. There will be a continuous PowerPoint presentation, and attendees will have the opportunity to view study exhibits and speak with IDOT, INDOT and study team representatives on a one-on-one basis. A question and answer forum will be held at 6:00 p.m. each day.

The public open house meetings will be held at the following times and locations:

INDIANA

Monday, June 17, 2013

5:00 – 8:00 p.m.

Lowell Middle School

19250 Cline Avenue

Lowell, IN 46356

ILLINOIS

Tuesday, June 18, 2013

5:00 – 8:00 p.m.

Peotone High School

Since the Tier Two kickoff in January, more than 80 meetings with stakeholder groups, businesses, and over 800 landowners have been conducted to help form the latest alternatives. The Illiana Team has gathered information to move forward with planning should the B3 alternative be carried forward. Beyond the regional benefits for improving freight movement and reducing trucks on local roads, as well as improving access to jobs and air quality by reducing congestion, the Illiana corridor provides an opportunity for communities to plan for growth.

News Release

Working with the Illiana team, as well as their own municipalities, residents and businesses can develop strategies to manage growth, including:

- Working to ensure cooperative and coordinated planning implementation between counties and municipalities;
- Capitalizing on links between communities;
- Supporting mixed-use development and balanced growth;
- Promoting infill development by diverting through-traffic to Illiana
- Providing an alternate route for motorists traveling through the region on the heavily trafficked I-80/94 Borman/Kingery Expressway and serving as an alternate route for trucks around the congested metropolitan area highways;
- Creating a positive effect on freight and other interstate travel throughout the country, as the region is one of the busiest intermodal hubs; and
- Promoting Eco-Agri-tourism and business opportunities along the corridor.

Based on recent community feedback and meetings with the corridor planning group, IDOT and INDOT will present the latest alternatives, including refinements to minimize impacts, maintain local access, interchange types and locations, local road connectivity, overpass and underpass locations, environmental protection and planning opportunities.

By connecting communities, the Illiana Corridor will serve as a vital backbone for local planning of many other land use needs and promote healthy, balanced, regional growth.

The meetings are accessible to individuals with disabilities. Anyone needing specific assistance should contact Sarah Copeland of Images, Inc. at (630) 510-3944. Persons planning to attend who will need a sign language interpreter or other similar accommodations should notify the TTY/TTD number (800) 526-0844/or 711; TTY users (Spanish) (800) 501-0864/ or 711; and for Telebraille dial (877) 526-6670 at least five days prior to the meeting.*

After scores of meetings with municipalities, residents, and businesses, the B3 Corridor from Tier One has been further defined, and will move forward in planning, along with the No-Action alternative. This is the time where we roll up our sleeves and work with the communities on the details. It's always a challenge meeting the needs of a region and each town and resident along the way, but this is an opportunity for communities to design their future based on a transportation plan that will provide infrastructure and investment—a template from which to plan a community that works for them.

Beyond the regional benefits for freight and intermodal connections, Illiana provides an opportunity for jobs and economic development, and communities to plan for growth and sustenance for future generations. Working with the Illiana team, municipalities, residents and businesses can develop strategies to manage growth.

- Plan for agricultural preservation;
- Capitalize on new links to communities;
- Support mixed-use development and balanced growth;
- Promote infill development by diverting through-traffic to the Illiana Corridor;
- Opportunities for community-specific, appropriate, balanced growth at interchanges;
- Promote Eco-Agri-tourism and business opportunities along the corridor

Region is North America's largest intermodal

distribution center leading:

- California

The Link Between Transportation Planning the Environment & Balanced Growth

IDOT and INDOT have been incorporating environmental and community values into their transportation decisions since early in the planning process and plan to carry these considerations through project development and delivery. By conducting a transportation plan and incorporating sustainable mitigation strategies, the region's environment may actually benefit due to the careful study process to help restore and maintain the natural environment.

If the current transportation system cannot accommodate the increased growth of the region, it makes sense to put a transportation plan together and involve the communities for local access and development along the way.

Without a plan, many environmental issues that already exist, might go unnoticed until it's too late to mitigate. In short, by an in-depth look at the region through this study, potential problems are being identified and prevention/mitigation efforts will be incorporated. The Illiana Team, with input from stakeholders, is well-equipped with environmental information and better able to plan for a roadway that will address the communities' concerns, including safety, emergency services, accessibility, landowner concerns, local road connectivity, economic considerations and future land use.

The Illiana would serve both the region and local communities.

Fewer Road Closures Mean More Access Points

The Grade Separation/Road Closure Analysis takes into consideration:

- Economic analysis – a comparison of the travel cost to motorists to close the road versus the cost to keep the road open (i.e. keep the road open by building a grade separation).
- Operation analysis – a consideration of factors such as the capacity of adjacent roadways; travel pattern changes that could affect emergency services; and motorists/emergency service vehicle access.
- Public Involvement – meeting with counties, landowners, cities, villages, emergency services, schools, etc. and incorporating their feedback into the analysis.

After recommendations from the communities, emergency services response providers, school administrations, and farm operators, the B3 Corridor now has more interchanges and crossroad overpasses and underpasses under consideration.

When It Comes to Planning, Communities Incorporate Their Own Vision

Land use and transportation planning go hand-in-hand. Population and location not only influence travel patterns, but the access points can guide and influence land use and balanced development. By developing a land use plan around the Illiana Corridor, each community can realize their own vision for how they plan their future – whether they want the size and character to stay the same or if they want to grow and change. The Illiana Team is not creating a vision for the communities along the Corridor, instead, they're providing an opportunity for local municipalities to work with IDOT and INDOT on incorporating transportation into their own vision and future plans.

With communities in mind, the Illiana Team is encouraging a vision for the Corridor that includes:

- Economic Development
- Protecting and Promoting Environmental Assets
- Addressing Local and Regional Traffic Issues
- Committing to Local and Regional Planning
- Supporting Individual Visions for Each Community

Mitigation Strategies

For every transportation project, IDOT and INDOT employ what's known as Mitigation Strategies. This entails a three-pronged approach to project management:

Avoid any environmental impact wherever possible

Return the area back to its original condition after the project is completed

Mitigate any environmental impact for the communities impacted.

For the Illiana Corridor, IDOT and INDOT are consistently planning for Mitigation Strategies including:

- Water quality
- Wetlands
- Prairie and/or forest restoration and enhancement

Currently, portions of the B3 Corridor flood on a regular basis. This is a concern for the community and something IDOT and INDOT take very seriously. Therefore, the Illiana Team has designed systems that will, at a minimum, retain the current drainage/stormwater management system so that the flooding will not increase. The system will address flooding conditions for the area, and strive to improve existing conditions, through one or more methods.

Toll Road vs. Non Toll Road:

The Illiana Team has studied both Tolloed and non Tolloed scenarios. The Tolloed scenario would attract less traffic as compared to the non Tolloed scenario, but even in consideration of these lower volumes, the Illiana project would yield tremendous benefits, with over 3 million hours of travel saved annually, and 46 million fewer annual truck miles of travel on local arterials. From an environmental perspective, the Tolloed scenario would not create any additional impacts. Tolling is also an important consideration as funding options are being explored.

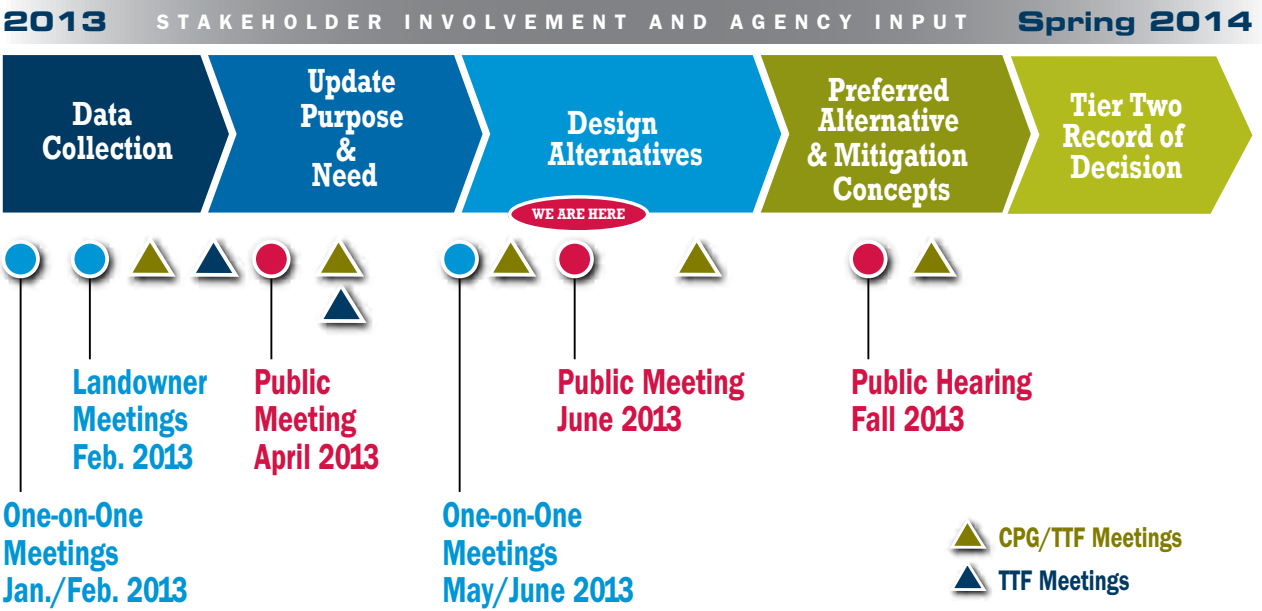

Benefits to Illinois and Indiana Farmers:

- > Directly connects farms to regional distribution centers
- > More efficient movement of goods = more profits for local farmers
- > Connects local farms to North America's largest inland port for global exporting

Next Steps

The next step is to gather input from the June public meeting and additional technical findings. Field survey activities, one-on-one stakeholder meetings and landowner coordination will continue. Determination of a right-of-way footprint and final recommendation for road connectivity changes will be ready by fall 2013, when a public hearing will be conducted to formally record comments that will be incorporated into the Final Tier Two Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS). The Tier Two phase is anticipated to be completed by spring 2014.

The Illiana Corridor will provide an alternate route for motorists travelling on the heavily trafficked I-80 Borman Corridor and will serve as a bypass for trucks around the congested metropolitan area highways. This will not only have a positive effect on freight and other interstate travel throughout the country, as this region is one of the busiest intermodal hubs, but it will also allow for improved accessibility on local and arterial roads, to improve economic opportunities. By connecting communities, the Illiana Corridor will serve as a vital backbone for local planning of many other land use needs and promote healthy, balanced regional growth. In addition, Illiana will stimulate and support planning for sustainable features such as open spaces, transit, greenways, recreation, water quality, wildlife, farmland preservation, and utilities. Illiana represents an opportunity for the local and regional communities to work together to ensure future, balanced growth and economic prosperity.

Illiana Tier Two Public Meeting #2 List A

You're Invited!

Tier Two Public Meetings

At the last public meeting, IDOT and INDOT presented a draft B3 working alignment, local road connectivity, and draft interchange design concepts. Based on your feedback, and extensive stakeholder involvement, IDOT and INDOT will be presenting refinements to the preferred corridor, interchange types and locations, local road connectivity, overpass and underpass locations, environmental protection and opportunities.

The meetings will be an open house format, and interested persons may attend anytime between 5:00 and 8:00 p.m. There will be a continuous PowerPoint presentation, and attendees will have the opportunity to provide comments, view exhibits and speak with IDOT, INDOT and study team representatives on a one-on-one basis. A question and answer forum will be held at 6:00 p.m. each day.

The Illiana Corridor will not only have a positive effect on freight and other interstate travel throughout the country, as this region is one of the busiest intermodal hubs, but it will also allow for improved accessibility on local and arterial roads, to improve economic opportunities.

Illiana represents an opportunity for the local and regional representatives to work together to ensure future, balanced growth and economic prosperity.

Tier Two Process and Timeline

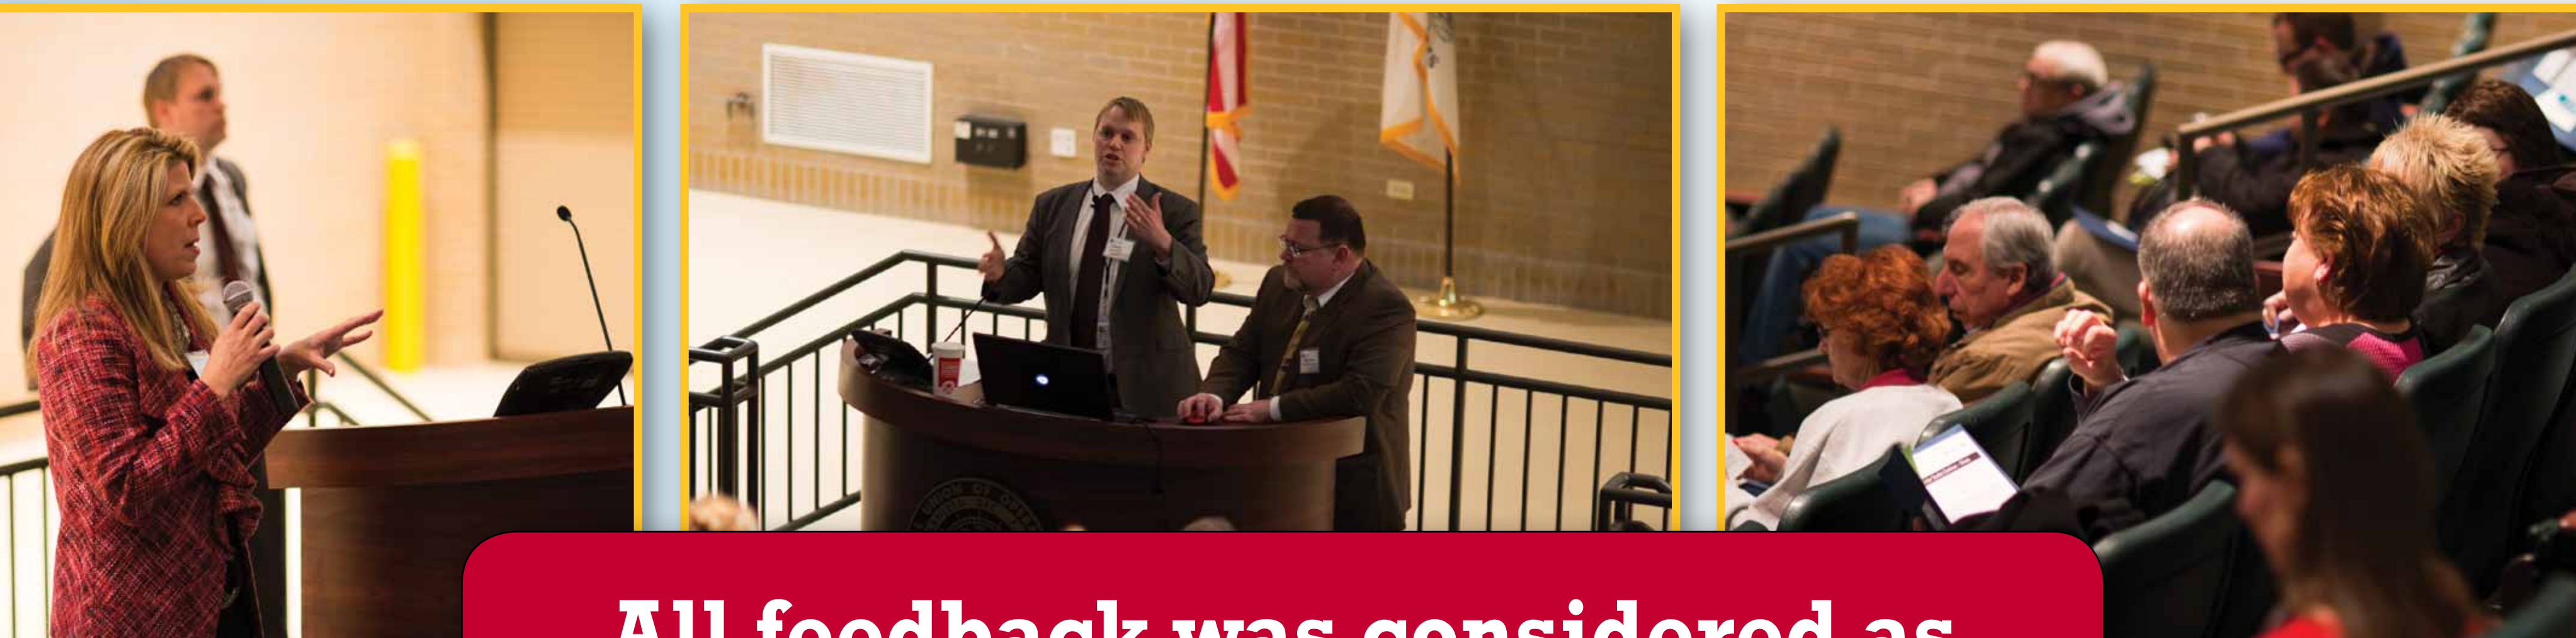

2013 STAKEHOLDER INVOLVEMENT AND AGENCY INPUT Spring 2014

One-On-One Meetings

Over 80 one-on-one meetings have been conducted since
Tier Two activities kicked off.

Meetings were conducted with Municipalities, Counties, townships, MPOs, Emergency Service Providers, School Districts, Property Owners, Forest Preserve/Park Districts, and Interest Groups.

All feedback was considered as design details were developed.

WHAT WE HEARD:

- Input on location of interchanges
- Input on keeping roads open—emergency services, school districts, local and county highway departments (maintenance), agriculture, other local residents.
- Swapping “road kept open” locations
- Adding locations of roads kept open
- Frontage roads or relocated roads also are considered
- Need for collaboration with others on land use planning

Landowner Meetings

Exclusive Landowner Outreach Activities Conducted:

Held five landowner meetings in February

Over 850 people participated

Presentation and Stations

One-on-one discussions with study team members

Met their Landowner Relations Representatives

All concerns were considered while refinements were made to the working alignment.

WHAT WE HEARD:

(from landowners within the 2000' corridor at the recent landowner outreach meetings)

- Opinions on road closures and adverse travel
- Access impacts if partial property is acquired
- Farming impacts if partial property is acquired
- Discovered locations of field tiles, well and septic
- Gathered information on wetlands and flow of water
- Concerns regarding secondary impacts
- Impacts on quality of life
- Overall land acquisition process

Context Sensitive Solutions (CSS)

An interdisciplinary approach that seeks effective, multimodal transportation solutions by working with stakeholders to develop, build, and maintain cost-effective transportation facilities which fit into and reflect the project's surroundings.

CSS is used by IDOT and INDOT in the planning and design of major projects.

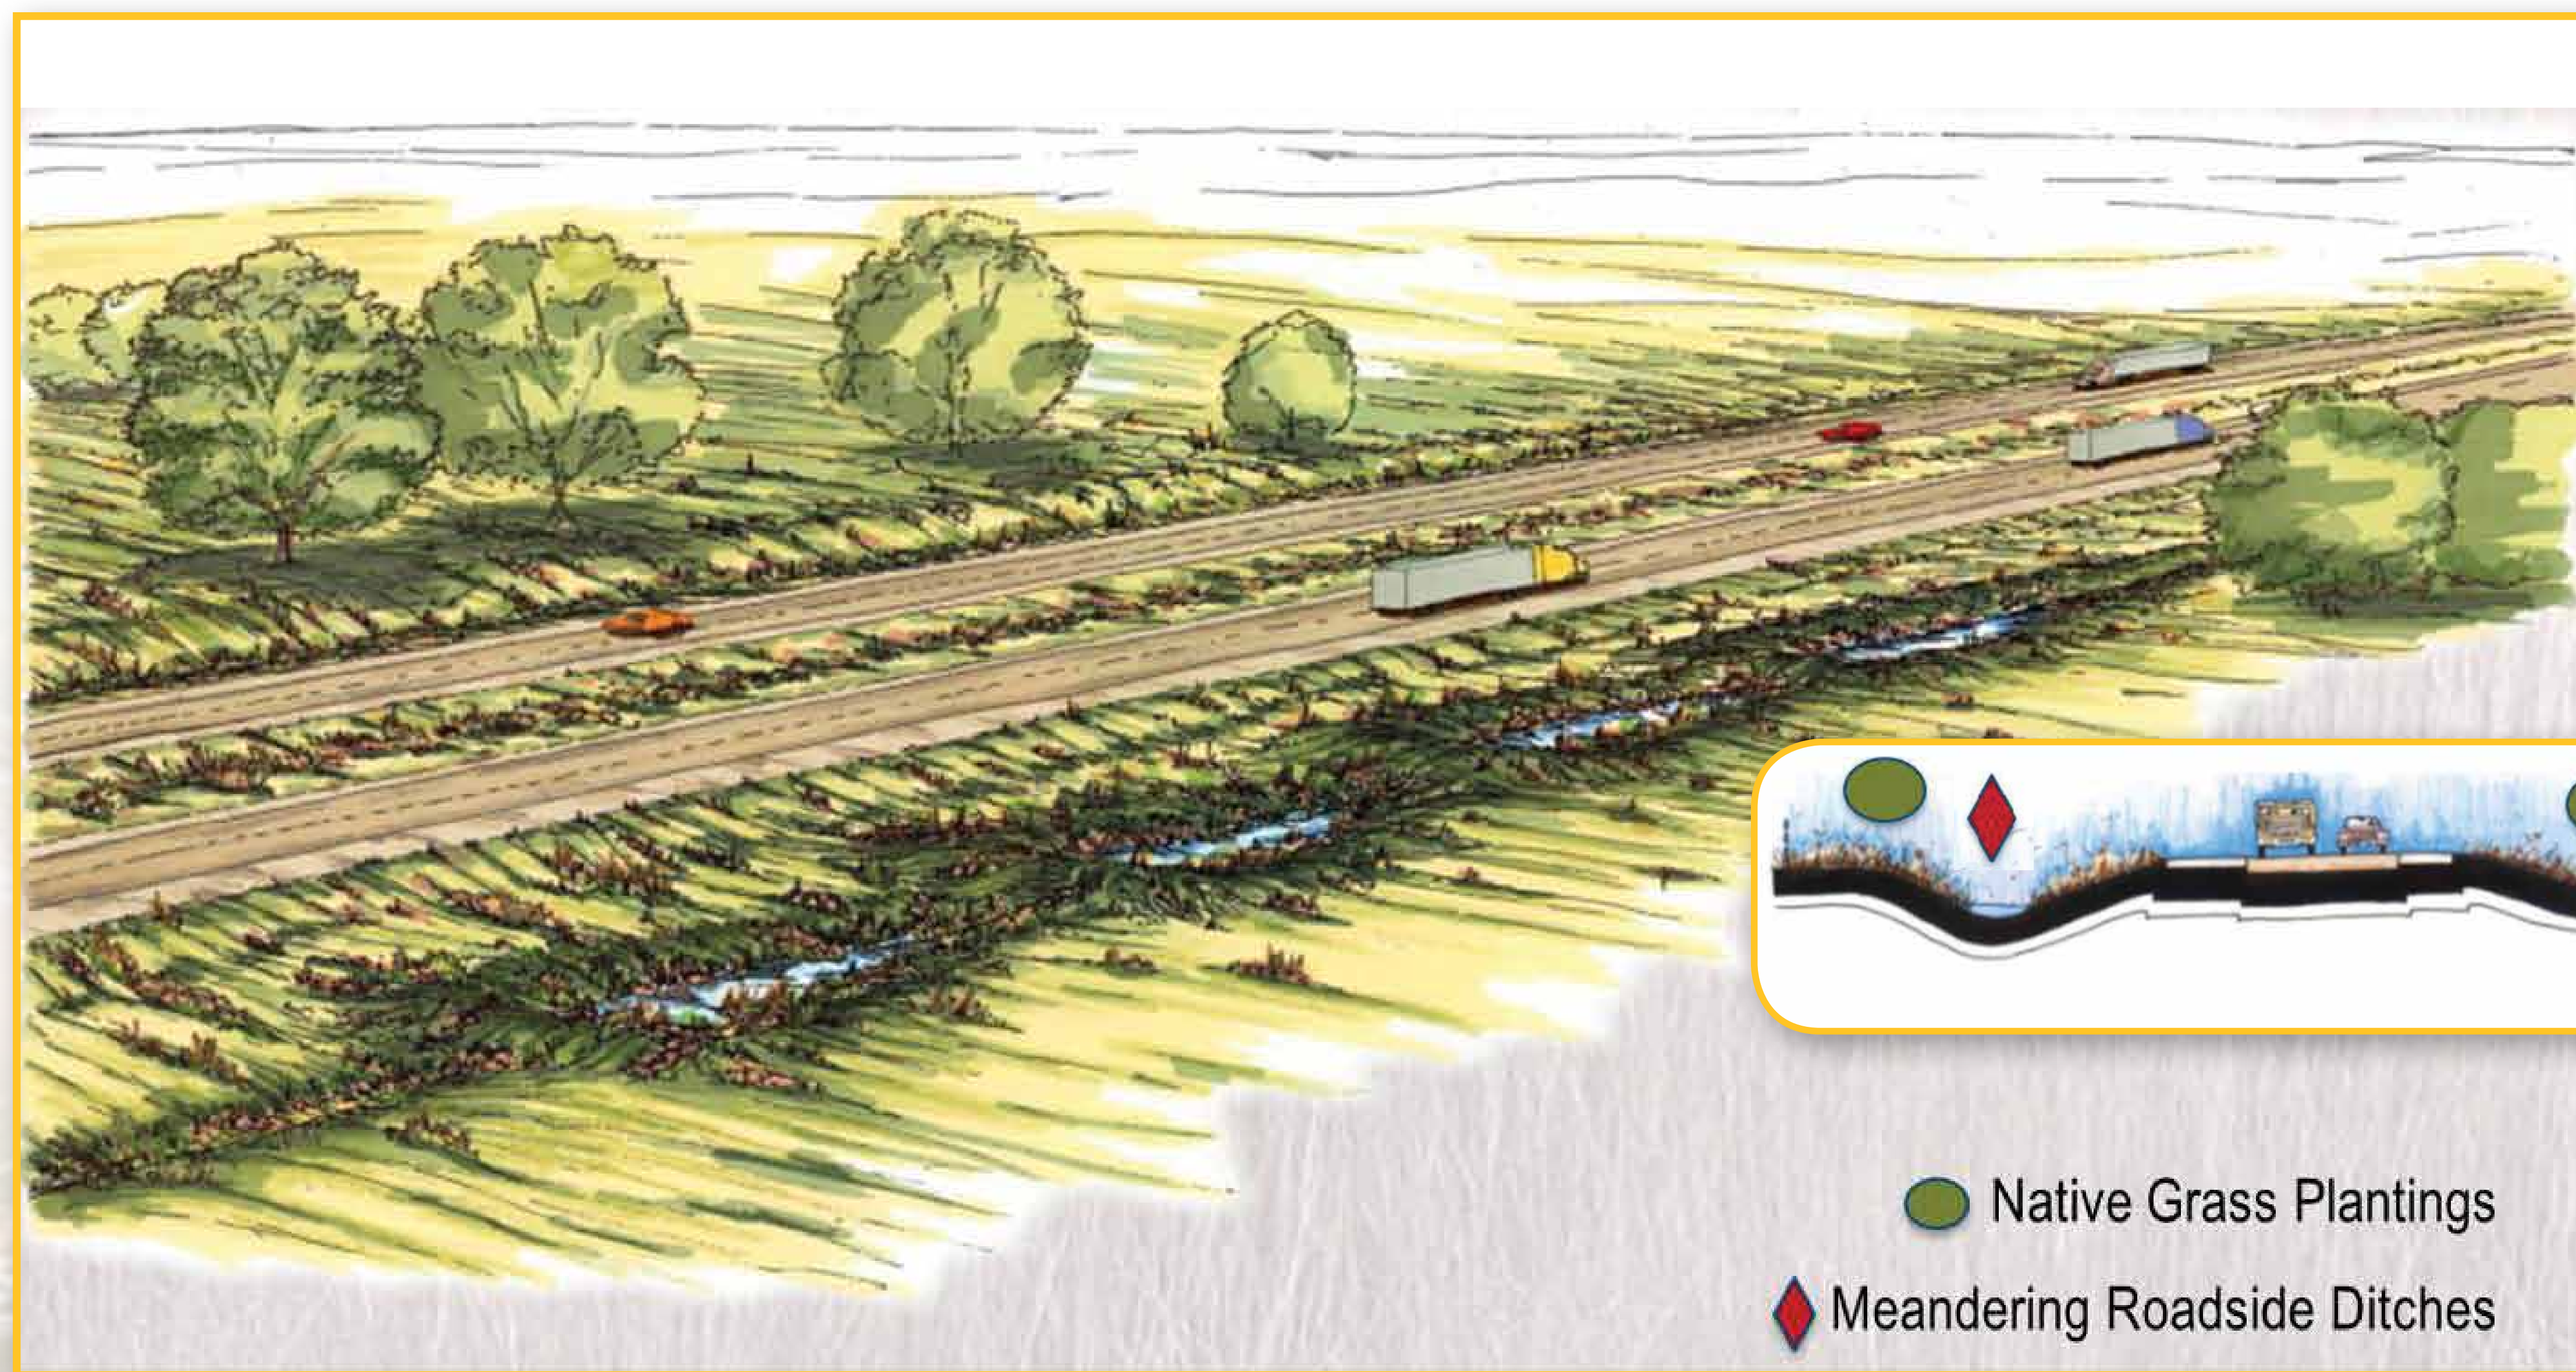

KEY PRINCIPLES

- Balance mobility, community needs, and environment, with safety paramount
- Involve stakeholders early and often in the planning process
- Address all transportation modes
- Involve all appropriate disciplines in planning and design
- Consider flexibility as part of design
- Incorporate aesthetics into design

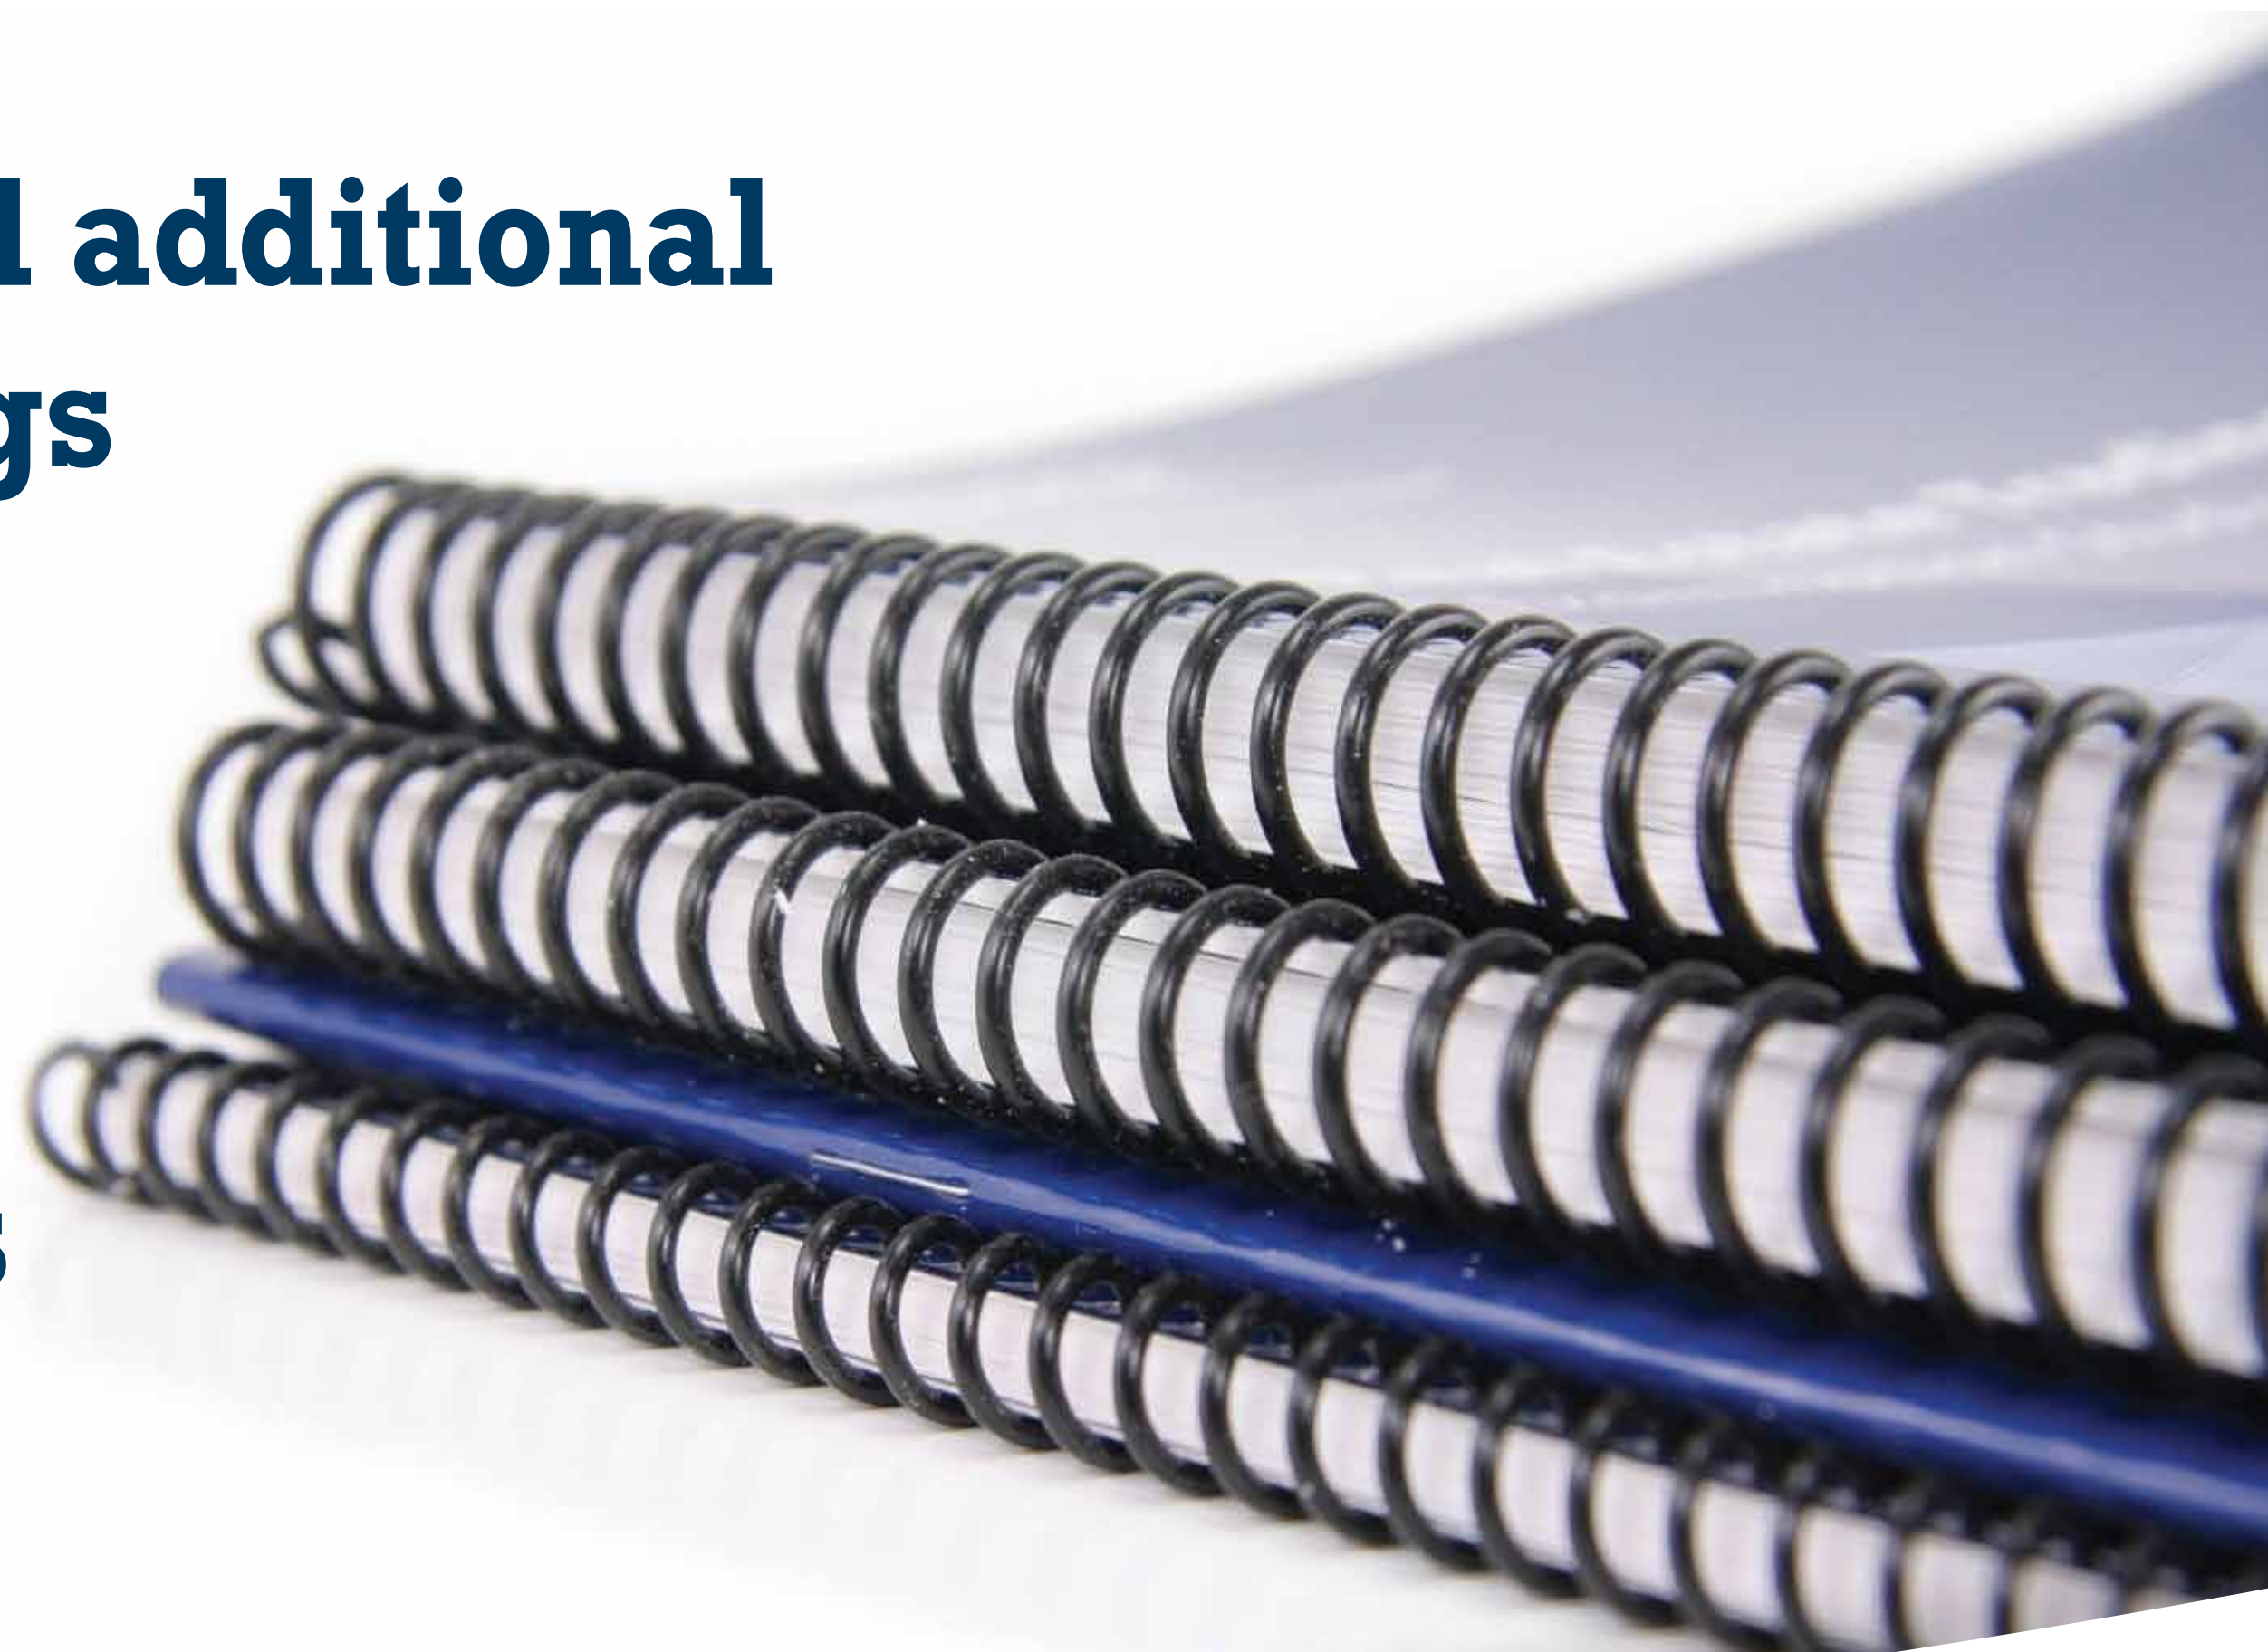

Initial Context Design Concepts

Next Steps

- Gather input and additional technical findings
- Land surveys continue
- Property owner on-site meetings

Planning Your Community

Community Planning

- Each community can incorporate their own vision
- Use resources to help plan
- Control your own future – plan for growth or retention of size and character

Corridor Planning

- Economic development
- Protect environmental assets
- Address local and regional traffic issues
- Commit to local and regional planning

Beyond the regional benefits for freight and intermodal connections, Illiana provides an opportunity for communities to plan for growth and provisions for future generations.

MPOS

EMERGENCY SERVICE PROVIDERS

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

PROPERTY OWNERS

FOREST PRESERVE / PARK DISTRICTS

INTEREST GROUPS

After more than 80 meetings since January, 2013, IDOT and INDOT have worked with communities to:

- Ensure cooperative planning between counties and municipalities
- Plan for agricultural preservation
- Establish cost-sharing policies with private developers for infrastructure improvements

Meetings with Individual Communities

INTEREST GROUPS

- Design links to communities
- Encourage counties to drive new development into existing communities (where desired)
- Establish policies that consider site-specific needs
- Support mixed-use development and balanced growth
- Promote infill development in northern Lake County to revitalize that region

The red areas indicated basins, orange areas would be swales and the yellow area infiltration zones. The blue area would be forest restoration or enhancement and the green diamonds would be wildlife crossing areas.

Environmental Benefits

- Reduces miles traveled, hours of emissions, and fuel wasted due to cars and trucks caught in traffic.
- Reduces the vehicle miles of travel on arterial roads in study area by 26 million miles annually.
- Growth will occur regardless of the Illiana; the goal is to get the through traffic and trucks off the local system.

Welcome to the second Public Meeting of the Illiana Corridor Study conducted by the Illinois and Indiana Departments of Transportation.

The purpose of today's meeting is to provide an overview of the Illiana planning process and schedule, present the need for improvements, refinements to the proposed Illiana plan that have been made since the last public meeting in April 2013, and seek additional stakeholder feedback. We are requesting your comments on the study team's recommendation of alternatives to carry forward for further analysis in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement.

Due to the study area size (956 sq. miles) and complexity, this project has been broken up into two parts or “tiers” following a federal process.

Tier One involved the identification of transportation needs, the development and evaluation of alternatives, and the selection of a preferred corridor at a conceptual level of detail. Tier One was completed in January 2013; at which time Tier Two activities kicked off.

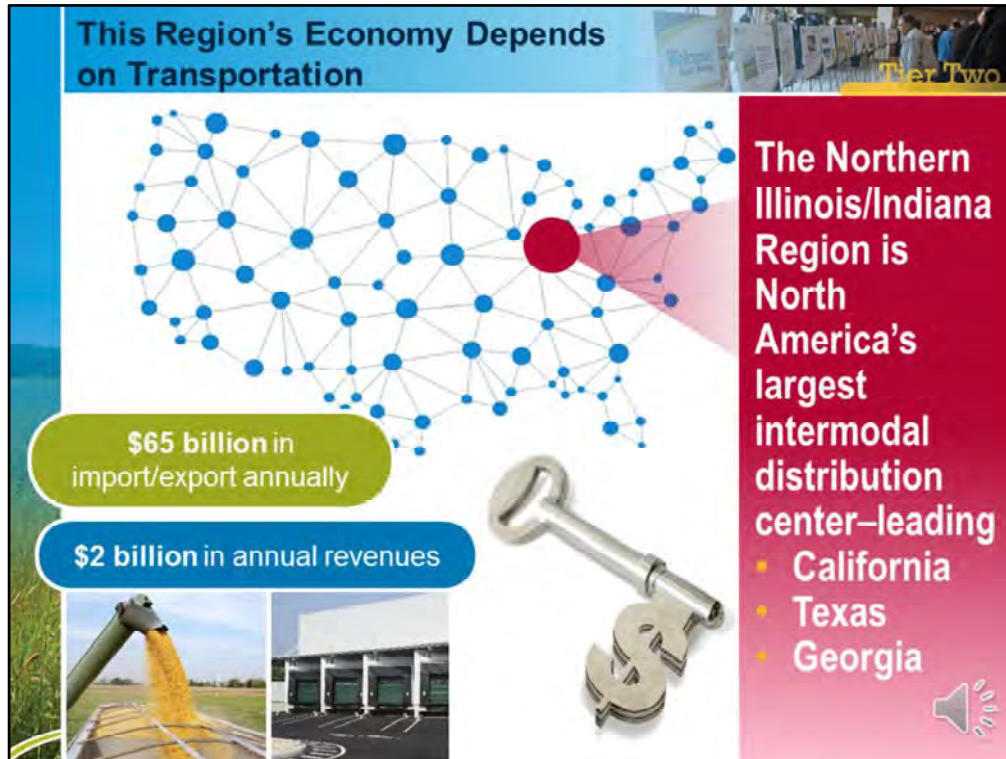

Tier Two involves a more in-depth discussion and analysis of the preferred alternative, Corridor B3. This involves additional detailed studies, including defining a design and footprint for the project, interchange locations, drainage studies, and detailed financing options and road closure analysis.

Given the central location in the nation, the northwest Indiana and northeastern Illinois region has long served as the crossroads of American transportation and commerce, and is therefore heavily utilized by three sectors of travel, roadways, rail and air.

Illiana is also critical to servicing the agriculture industry in Will and Lake Counties by providing quick and efficient access to intermodal distribution centers.

With a substantial component of the grain market price being transportation costs, and with more efficient transportation and transfer of grain leading to higher premiums paid to farmers, linking to distribution centers promotes stable and profitable farming.

The Will, Lake and Cook County region serves as a vital national link for interstate and national transportation. The region is also home to a key intermodal logistical area for the transfer of rail, port and truck freight, adding substantial trucking demands throughout the region. As traffic volumes on other highways in the region have increased, there have been substantial negative economic impacts to industries that depend on the ability to efficiently move freight.

Along with the needs of the intermodal distribution and agriculture industries, population growth is projected at 176% and job growth at 224% by 2040, therefore efficient transportation is critical to the health of the region as well as every community along the Corridor.

Meetings with communities have helped the Illiana team envision planning for the corridor by encouraging development and balanced growth where desired, to keep all communities economically viable for decades to come.

These meetings also focused on cooperative planning between counties and municipalities, planning for agricultural preservation and discussions regarding establishing cost-sharing policies with private developers for infrastructure improvements.

How We Determine the Refined Working Alignment

- Refine the conceptual roadway footprint
 - Coordinate with communities' land planning
 - Coordinate with landowners
 - Coordination with schools, emergency services
 - Identify mitigation and enhancement options
 - Locate interchanges

Preferred alignment will be presented FALL 2013

IL/IN Public Meeting #2

ILLINOIS CORPUS

And, IDOT and INDOT continue to work with municipalities and landowners in the corridor to refine the alignment for the least amount of impact.

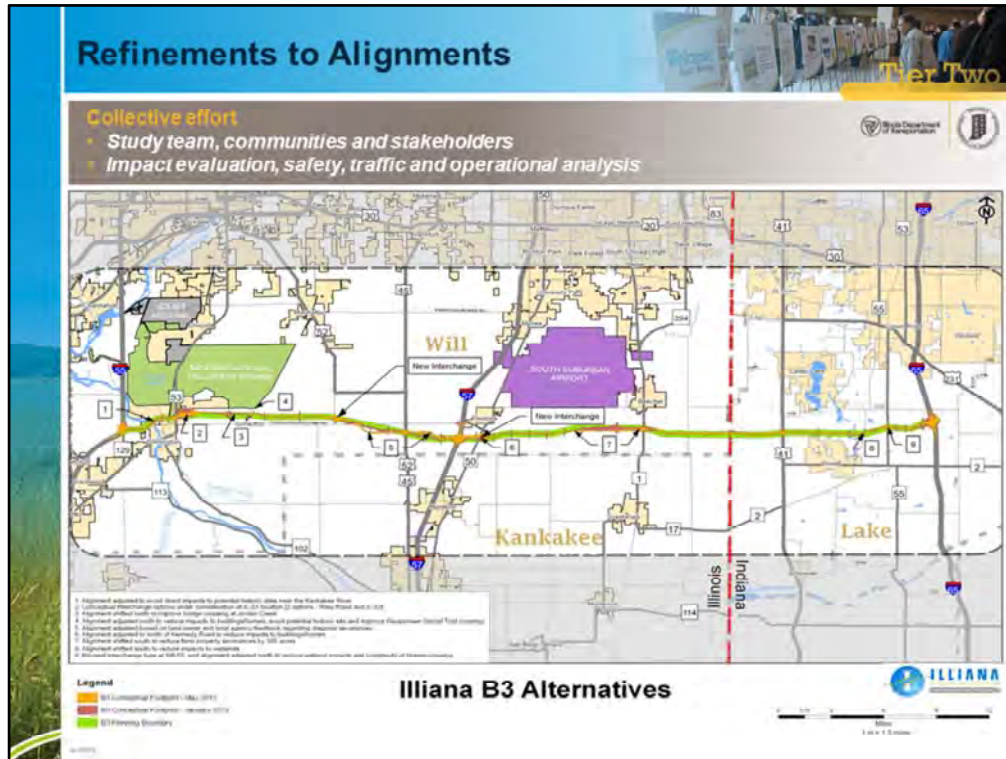

With input from all of our stakeholders and studies conducted by our engineering team, we have continued to refine the alignment.

In fact, several landowners collaborated and requested an adjustment to the B3 alignment to reduce parcel severances. The study team then evaluated the request and ended up adjusting it to meet their needs. The result was fewer land severances and reducing impacts to wetlands.

This is just one example of how the Illiana Team relies on community input to make decisions. Maintaining community connections throughout Tier 1 and Tier 2 has been critical to this process.

The refinements made since the last public meeting have been a true collaborative effort between the study team, communities and stakeholders as well as results from impact evaluation, safety, traffic, and operational analysis.

Please visit the exhibit room to view the B3 refined corridor and speak with study team members.

Local Road Connectivity

- Economic Considerations
- Emergency and School Routes
- Landowner Access
- Future Land Use
- Coordinated Extensively with:
 - Emergency Services
 - School Districts
 - Farm Operations
 - Local Road Agencies
 - Local Officials

RESULT: Many crossroad overpasses have been added

The Illiana team has coordinated extensively with emergency services to determine the best alternatives to allow them to do their job as effectively as they currently do and to meet access needs for schools, farmers, landowners and future land use plans. As a result, we have added many crossroad overpasses. For an in-depth view of the local road connectivity, please visit the exhibit room.

A tolled option is recommended for its simplicity; efficiency and viability. It is the best alternative for all stakeholders as it provides revenue for maintaining the roadway lowering the burden on taxpayers.

As we know, there are substantial impacts to building Illiana as well. Homes will be acquired, wetlands affected and, in some cases, farms may be severed. However, by working closely with stakeholders, we 1) avoid environmental impacts wherever possible, 2) minimize unavoidable impacts to extent possible and 3) mitigate unavoidable impacts. Through community outreach, we can help communities plan for their own future so that they can reap the most benefits – environmentally and economically – from Illiana.

Planning for Your Community

- Use resources to help plan
- Control your own future
- Plan for growth or retention of size and character

- Address local and regional traffic issues
- Commit to local and regional planning

ILLIANA CORRIDOR DEVELOPMENT PLAN

This project would serve both the region and local communities. Communities are participating in future land use planning activities considering the possibility of Illiana being built. Corridor planning groups are forming and the study team is implementing features along the illiana to support local plans for the future.

Water Quality Mitigation Strategies will be used to address the current drainage conditions in the Corridor. The red areas indicate basins, orange areas are swales and the yellow areas are infiltration zones. The blue areas are forest restoration or enhancement and the green diamonds are wildlife crossing areas. Together, these mitigation opportunities provide a more environmentally-friendly strategies to enhance the natural habitat.

Included in the sustainable concept plan are 1) water quality management, 2) wetlands preservation and mitigation and 3) prairie restoration/enhancement. In addition, where possible, natural stormwater management facilities, like the one pictured here, are being incorporated into the design.

Environmental Benefits

Ter Two

- Reduces miles traveled, hours of emissions, and fuel wasted due to cars and trucks caught in traffic.
- Reduces the vehicle miles of travel on arterial roads in study area by 26 million miles annually.
- Growth will occur regardless of the Illiana; the goal is to get the existing and projected through traffic and trucks off the local system.

The goal of the Illiana is to get the through traffic and trucks off the local system to reduce emissions, promoting cleaner air in the region. By reducing miles of travel by 26 million miles per year, the Illiana will reduce emissions and fuel usage due to cars and trucks caught in traffic; a direct benefit to residents in the study area.

Public involvement has been the driving force throughout this entire process. Municipalities, counties, townships, MPOs, emergency services, schools and property owners have guided the alignment decisions and will continue to do so until the preferred alignment is determined in the fall.

Next Steps

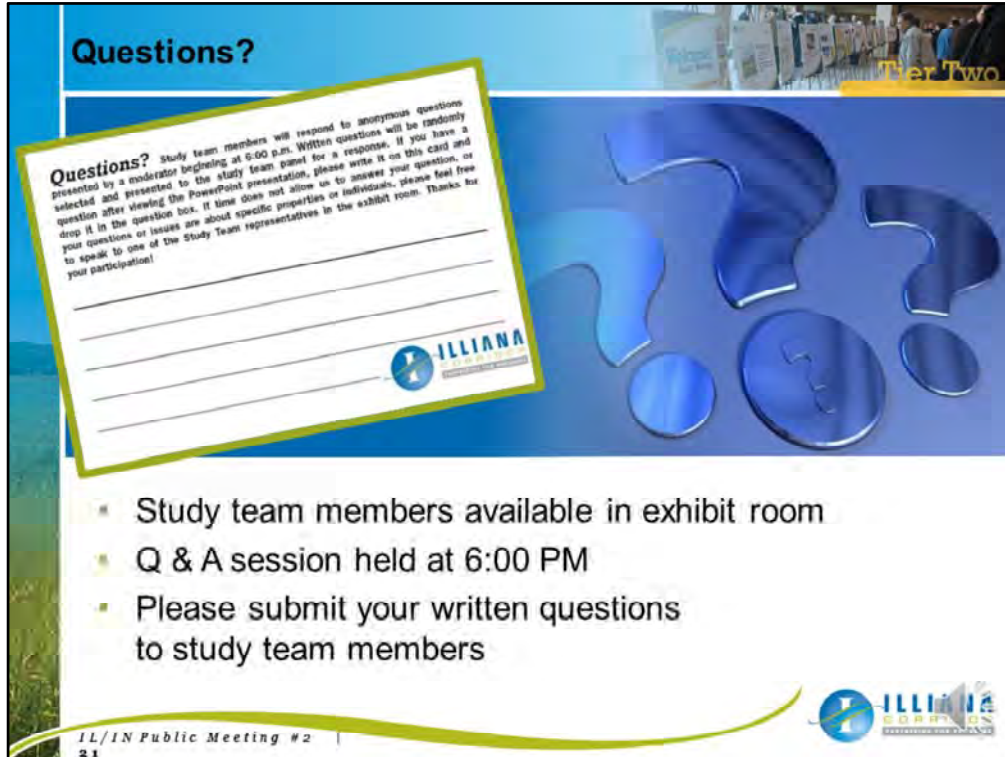

- Gather input and additional technical findings
- Land surveys continue
- Property owner on-site meetings

PUBLIC HEARINGS
will be held to present the final alignment and the Tier Two Draft Environmental Impact Statement
Fall 2013

We have documented all stakeholders' comments and concerns and have held dozens of meetings to inform stakeholders about the process. With this collaborative effort, the Illiana team made better decisions about road closures, access points, environmental impacts, land acquisition, planning and economic development. Public involvement is ultimately what will make this corridor a success.

The timeline pictured here gives you an overview of where we are in the public involvement process. This will be the last public meeting until the public hearing in the fall of 2013, where the preferred alignment and mitigation concepts will be presented.

As provided in the slide show, the intent of the Illiana is to take traffic off of Local Roads.

At the west end of the Illiana, intermodal truck traffic from Center Pt intermodal will be drawn to use Route 53 enroute to connection with the Illiana

How will the impact of added truck traffic on Abraham Lincoln Nat. Cemetery, Midwestern Nat. Tall grass Prairie, Elwood & Wilmette be mitigated?

The $1.5 billion + price tag being talked about is just for the expressway. It seems that much more money will need to be spent on I-65 improvements, changes/upgrades to local roads based on changed traffic patterns and volumes, etc. Specifically in Indiana, is there a plan to study/project these costs + needed construction and impact on taxes? If not why not?

Overview

The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT), the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT), and the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) completed the first tier of the Illiana Corridor study project in January 2013 with approval of the Record of Decision (ROD), advancing one corridor and a no-build alternative into the second tier of the study project. The recommended corridor, known as “B3,” extends from I-55 near Wilmington, Illinois, 46.8 miles east to I-65 near Cedar Lake, Indiana, and was identified as the selected preferred corridor alternative during the first tier of the planning process.

Tier Two will shift the focus from the original broad 952 square-mile study area to the B3 communities, landowners and access needs along and in proximity to the preferred Corridor B3. Tier Two will involve more detailed engineering and environmental studies to define a preliminary design and footprint of the project, as well as financing options. Some of the engineering work in this phase of study will include interchange locations and layout, roadway location and alignment, drainage studies, local road closures and determining overpass or underpass opportunities.

Tier Two studies began in January 2013 and may take 12 - 15 months to complete.

Identification of Stakeholders

Per IDOT’s and INDOT’s Context Sensitive Solutions (CSS) procedures, a stakeholder is anyone who could be affected by the project and has a stake in its outcome. Stakeholders are identified as all residents of the study area and those interested parties that help IDOT/INDOT understand the needs for, and concerns about, the transportation system. IDOT/INDOT can take this input, along with all of its other work and analysis, and use it to make planning and design decisions.

New stakeholders will be added to the initial stakeholder list throughout the project. All stakeholders expressing interest in the project will continue to be added to the project mailing list and will be able to participate in the process through various public outreach opportunities.

Public Involvement Efforts

In order to provide stakeholders an advanced notice of the meetings, a postcard invitation was created to announce the June 17th and 18th Open House Public Meetings.
